DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgement is made to Applicant's IDS filed 03/29/2007.

Claims 1-20 are pending and are under consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 and 12-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Close et al (European Patent number 0094116 (A2)).

Close discloses therapeutic, enteric coated granules which comprise a non-steroidal, therapeutic active core, wherein said core is coated by a first coating, which is subsequently coated with an enteric coating. Said first coating comprises a dispersing aid (see claim 1). Said dispersing aid is disclosed as being either an alkali metal phosphate or glycine(see claim 8), said glycine is water soluble. Said dispersing aid is present in an amount of approximately 0.5 to 7.5 (see claim 1), with a preferred embodiment being taught in example II being approximately 3.5% of the entire weight of the granules. The active core is taught as being selected from a plurality of active agents, all of which have some sensitivity to acid. Said active can also comprise an antihistamine (see page 4, line 27).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 10-11 and 19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Close et al (European Patent number 0094116 (A2)) in view of Henriksen (U.S. Patent number 6,391,342).

The teachings of Close are set forth above under the discussion of 35 U.S.C. 102(b).

Close fails to directly disclose that said active core comprises an antidepressant, and particularly a benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor.

Henriksen teaches an oral dosage form comprising a benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor as an innermost layer with an enteric coating as the outermost layer.

Henriksen teaches that in order to protect the benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor from degradation by the ingredients of the enteric coating that an intermediate coating layer is required (see claim 1).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to desire to use the benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor as the active core in the invention of Close. One would have been motivated to do so since utilizing a benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor as the active would allow the composition to be used to treat a wider variety of conditions, and benzimidazole proton pump inhibitors are taught in Henriksen as requiring an intermediate layer to protect the benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor from the ingredients of the enteric coating. There would be a reasonable expectation of success in the use of the benzimidazole proton pump inhibitor of Henriksen as the active of Close since Close teaches that additional components, including actives, can be incorporated into the core (see Close, page 4, lines 26-29).

Conclusion

No claims allowed. All claims rejected. No claims objected.
